Art 101: Cartography

Orlando Public Library, Albertson Room

Wednesday, May 24, 6:30 p.m.

Cartography deals with the design and production of maps. While today's maps strive for accuracy using scientific equipment and practices, maps of yore often relied on imprecise measurements and the map maker's imagination. This month, learn about the history, tools and artistic elements used to create maps and learn to design your very own map. Space is limited. Registration required. Ages 15 and up.
