SmART: Science Meets Art

Orlando Public Library, First Floor Through June

On display are winning submissions of the SmART art competition. The competition, open to 3rd through 12th grade students in Central Florida, encourages recycling efforts in the community by requiring all works to be made with previously used items. The overall winner will receive a community garden for their school provided by The Simple Living Institute.

Pamela Loudon

Orlando Public Library, First Floor Through June

Pamela Loudon is a fine artist who translates ordinary objects into bold, arresting abstracts through the fusion of photography, digital artistry and painting. On display through June are vivid, distinctive images that showcase Pamela's fascination with street life, including graffiti from around the world. Pamela's work can be seen displayed in schools, galleries, and companies in France, Japan, Singapore, and the United States.

Third Thursday

Orlando Public Library, First Floor Thursday, June 16, 5 – 8 p.m.

The Gallery Hop features numerous galleries and non-traditional art venues that spotlight the best of established and emerging Orlando-based artists in tandem with nationally and internationally acclaimed artists.
