Hiawassee Book Club

Hiawassee Branch

Monday, September 18, 6:30–8 p.m.

Enjoy coffee and conversation as we discuss Shanthi Sekaran's Lucky Boy. A wrenching emotional battle ensues between Soli, an undocumented Mexican single mother, and Kavya, an Indian-American chef who cannot have children, when Soli's infant son is placed in Kavya's care during an immigration detention.

Southwest Book Club

Southwest Branch

Tuesday, September 19, 7–8:45 p.m.

Come to the Southwest Book Club this month to discuss author David McCullough and his many books. McCullough, a winner of two Pulitzer Prizes, two National Book Awards and the Presidential Medal of Freedom, among many others, is a master historian whose biographies and histories bring past events to life for today's reader. Some of McCullough's titles include: The Wright Brothers, John Adams, Truman, 1776, The Great Bridge and The Johnstown Flood. His most recent, The American Spirit: Who We Are and What We Stand For is a collection of his speeches that remind us of core American values to which we all subscribe regardless of geopolitical and ethnic background. Ages 18 and up.

Alafaya Book Club

Alafaya Branch

Wednesday, September 20, 7 p.m.

The Alafaya Book Club's September selection is The Glass Menagerie by Tennessee Williams. It's the story of a bigger-than-life mother, her restless son and her fragile daughter. When a suitor comes for the daughter, he brings to realization that they live in a dreamy world that can so easily be shattered into jagged pieces.
