

Communication Policy

The Library has certain standardized communication channels in place. The Director and the Public Relations Administrator (or designees) are the official representatives for the Library when dealing with media inquiries and when asked to provide an official statement representing the Library's position on a particular topic or issue.