English From Zero Coming to Orlando Public Library

(Orlando, FL) In keeping with the Orange County Library System's dedication to providing a wide variety of ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) resources and services to the community, English From Zero, a series designed for beginning English learners, is coming to the Orlando Public Library every Sunday beginning June 9. All classes are free for library cardholders.

English From Zero is one of the cornerstones of language learning at the Orange County Library System and is currently offered at 10 library locations. These classes are designed for beginning learners but are open to anyone who is interested in improving their skills in reading and speaking English. Each weekly session focuses on a different target topic, including vocabulary, basic grammar and pronunciation. Students have the opportunity to actively listen, learn and practice in a safe, welcoming, judgement-free environment. The ESOL team at OCLS is made up of instructors, specialists and staff who are all committed to helping learners from all backgrounds, native languages and skill levels. As part of the Library's growing collection of ESOL resources, English From Zero will be offered on Sundays beginning June 9 at 4 p.m. at the Orlando Public Library, 101 E. Central Blvd.
