

Writer's Corner

Writing Workshop: Getting Started

South Creek Branch

Sunday, September 11, 2 p.m.

Do you want to write a book, but aren't sure where to start? Join author Britt Dior for a workshop on how to get the thoughts from your head on to the page. She will discuss the steps leading up to writing a book, including note-taking, journaling, blogging and the actual writing process.

Writing Workshop: Taking the Mystery Out of Murder

Alafaya Branch

Saturday, September 24, 2 p.m.

Learn how to plot a murder-mystery story with Kathleen Lopez, author of Between the Shades of Light and Dark. Lopez will discuss how to craft a unique hook and how to outline a killer storyline. A book sale and signing will follow the workshop.

Writing Your Story

Orlando Public Library, Cypress Room

Wednesday, September 28, 6:30 p.m.

Write Your Story... you know you have one. You've probably thought about it for a while. Maybe others have said you ought to write a book. Our panel of published authors will answer your questions, offer tips and share best practices for getting started. Even if you come curious but hesitant, we're pretty sure you'll leave informed, confident and excited. Featuring: Dallas Gorham, Mary Lois Sanders, Sharon Colvin, Anna Massengill, and Mary Flynn.